

Heritage Insurance Approved to Write Property and Casualty Insurance in North Carolina

CLEARWATER, Fla., Aug. 13, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Heritage Insurance Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: HRTG), a property and casualty insurance holding company, announced today that its subsidiary, Heritage Property & Casualty Company (Heritage P&C), was approved to write property and casualty insurance in the state by the North Carolina Department of Insurance. In addition to Florida, this is the second state in the U.S. where Heritage P&C is authorized as an admitted carrier.

"The license in North Carolina marks the beginning of our multi-state expansion. We are excited to serve this new market with competitive products to meet the needs of policyholders. We believe North Carolina presents a great opportunity for future growth and we look forward to building market share in the state," said Bruce Lucas, Heritage Chairman and Chief Executive Officer.

Along with North Carolina, Heritage Property & Casualty Insurance Company submitted applications to South Carolina, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The Company is in varying stages of discussion with other state insurance regulatory authorities regarding its applications and desire to write insurance in these new markets.
